

HAPPINESS TO BURN

© 2018 BY JENNY VAN WEST MUSIC / BMI. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

I got my old sweetheart back in my arms again, and That good Mr. Bluebird he's working his charms again
And Lady Luck, she's taking her sweet old turn
And I got happiness, happiness to burn

So don't ever go, don't ever be a fool again
I got my heart on my sleeve and it's dedicated, dedicated to you
Keep the fire warm until that moment I return
We'll have happiness, happiness to burn

We got happiness, happiness to burn

On the day you left my skies turned grey
Then the sun came out and the teardrops dried / When you decided to stay

I got my old sweetheart back in my arms again and that good Mr. Bluebird he's working his charms again
And Lady Luck, she's taking her sweet old turn
And we got happiness, happiness to burn

Keep the fire warm until that moment I return
We'll have happiness, happiness to burn

LIVE IN A NEW WAY

Why's that mama crying / her baby didn't make it home tonight
I'm tired of the dying and just want everybody to be alright

Whoa_____ Gotta live in a new way
Cuz we got some debts to pay / I do believe it's time

Some of us are angry, some of us don't know what to do
Some of us are weary, some of us just want to get through

If we can just let go of the hate / Might not feel the need to dominate
If we could just admit we'd been wrong / We might have a chance of getting along

Whoa_____ Gotta live in a new way
Cuz we got some debts to pay / I do believe it's time
Whoa_____ Healing is a long road
But we don't have to walk alone / I do believe it's time

It could be so nice / It just might be some kind of paradise
If we could just admit we'd been wrong / We might have a chance of getting along

Whoa_____ Gotta live in a new way
Cuz we got some debts to pay
I do believe it's time

Whoa_____ Healing is a long road
But we don't have to walk alone
I do believe it's time

Whoa___Gotta live in a new way

NEVER ALONE

© 2018 BY JENNY VAN WEST MUSIC / BMI. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Baby I'm a long way from home
Walking through a strange land, feeling so alone
Streets are cold, Days are dark without you, the path is dim
Sometimes I don't know where to turn

But there's a little voice inside
Speaks to me in the stillness of the night
Have courage, everything is gonna be alright
You're gonna see him again

But we gotta have faith
Gotta take heart
Gotta stick together when life falls apart
gotta hang tough, gotta let go
And even when the road is rough
We're never alone, never alone, never alone
Never alone, never alone, never alone

Baby I'm wandering far from home
Through this strange land I no longer feel so alone
You are with me everywhere I go
I'm gonna see you again

But we gotta have faith
Gotta take heart
Gotta stick together when life falls apart
gotta hang tough, gotta let go
I got you, you got me
A couple of angels and a destiny
We will be lifted, we will be home
Thoughts of you, they carry me, and we're
Never alone, never alone
Never alone, never alone

45

Now here's a little song about a 45
I'm not talking about the pistol you keep by your side
The one you clean and the one you hold the one you shine and the one you load no I'm talking about 45

Needle come down, spin so fast take off your socks, let the song do the rest
Three minutes later you'll be wanting more
Your friend flips it on over, nother song in store
That's what I'm talking bout
45

45 / spin so fast
45 / let the song do the rest
45 / we'll be riding high
45 / we'll be feeling alright
Just a little bit of vinyl but it keeps me satisfied

Standing outside the record store on my second cup of coffee will they open that door turn the lock and we all rush in let the dancing begin

45 / spin so fast
45 / let the song do the rest
45 / we'll be riding high
45 / we'll be feeling alright
Just a little bit of vinyl but it keeps me satisfied
Just a little bit of vinyl but it keeps me satisfied
Just a little bit more and I'll see you on the flip side

WHERE I STAND

© 2018 BY JENNY VAN WEST MUSIC / BMI. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Standing in this darkened room / Don't know why I'm here
Some things that I once understood are not completely clear Night has made a silhouette of all that I hold dear Hanging onto shadows and none of it is real

I know that you are with me but cannot touch your face
Edges tell a story of a world that's been erased
Darkness took the clarity that longing has replaced
Forgotten every answer but these questions will not wait

And I don't know where I stand / and I don't know just where I am
A missing door to a promised land / a broken lock and the key in my hand

Every little bit's a bit too much and every little touch a bit too rough for me
Standing in the light of what's been said / Moonrise turning the sea to red It's impossible to know anything

Seven times the blindfold, seven times the light
Day breaks through my window but I'm still not seeing right
Caught up in the glare of all we thought but couldn't say
Cannot let it go and yet we've got to find a way

And I don't know where I stand / and I don't know just where I am
Lost the door to a promised land
A broken lock and the key in my hand

EMPTY BOWL

Just be an empty bowl, let life fill you up
No need to overthink it, cuz life is enough
When we're overflowing, we've got nothing to prove
Just empty yourself and let life live you

Just be that red wagon, flying down the street
Let gravity have its way, you can stop with your feet
Cuz you know it doesn't matter / What the other kids may do
Just head down that hill let life live you

And when the sky is golden and the evening's on the land
You got another chance to make it right again

Just be that empty bowl, let life fill you up
No need to overthink it, cuz life is enough
When we're overflowing, there's nothing left to prove
Just empty yourself and let life live you
Let life live you
Let life live you

TWENTY-SEVEN DOLLARS

© 2018 BY JENNY VAN WEST MUSIC / BMI. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

I got $27 and a gold and diamond watch from a pretty boy in Kansas City says he loves me very much
He's got the snakeskin boots and we're in cahoots and we're running out of time
Leaving Kansas City, Kansas City on my mind

Got home late last night from a party on the hill
Went to flip that light switch but I hadn't paid the bill
So I called up my friend Kitty to see if she was in Operator said no Kitty, she's in the bathtub drinking gin

And I got $27 and a gold and diamond watch from a pretty boy in Kansas City says he loves me just a little too much
He's got the snakeskin boots and we're in cahoots and we're running out of time
Leaving Kansas City, Kansas City on my mind

To borrow beg or steal I went down to the bank
To help my old friend Kitty cuz she's sitting in the tank
The man there said Now darling, your collateral's not so hot
I reached into my pocket and showed him what I got

I got $27 and a gold and diamond watch
from a pretty boy in Kansas City says he loves me just a little too much
He's got the snakeskin boots and we're in cahoots and we're running out of time
Leaving Kansas City, Kansas City on my mind

Now when I'm feeling blue and I want a real good time
I head for Kansas City cuz he loves me all the time
Never paid the light bill, we'll be dancing by the moon
Kitty's great but she's gotta wait, tell her we'll be there real soon

And I got $27 and a gold and diamond watch
from a pretty boy in Kansas City says he loves me just a little too much
He's got the snakeskin boots and we're in cahoots and we're running out of time
Leaving Kansas City, Kansas City on my mind

THRESHOLDS

© 2018 BY JENNY VAN WEST MUSIC / BMI. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Some things that almost happened a long time ago Never came to pass and now I'm glad Ten thousand hesitations make a life like this Thresholds of the past and now they're gone
We are mortal, we grow old / there are a thousand tales untold
But we never get to know what might have come from other roads

There's a man I almost married, barely even knew
Some children that we might have had one day
Broke my heart in Eden when he found another Eve
Thresholds of the past and now they're gone
We were reckless, we were young / we were blessed by ties undone
Broke promise before a vow / We would have busted anyhow

There are always the regrets that live inside us by the score so many more are things undone / that came asking at my door

Some things that almost happened just the other day
Held my breath and watched them drift away
Felt the breeze move past as they brought themselves to rest
Choices never made, perhaps another day
But we never get to know what might have come from other roads
Were we captive, were we free / We might learn eventually

CAN'T HAVE YOU NOW

A little too early, a little too wise Couldn't look away as I passed you by, as I passed you by

It's in the smile / and it's in the eyes
It's in the touch, no need to compromise / Where you been, where you going

I know that timing's everything / that door will open soon
Got my number now I'm sitting in that waiting room

But I can't have you now / Gotta send you on your way

Big ol window, big ol walls / Big ol steps and a big ol fall
I keep falling and falling

I know that timing's everything / that door will open soon
Got my number now I'm sitting in this waiting room

But I can't have you now / Gotta send you on your way
But never and forever's just too long to wait

And maybe the looking is the sweetest part and the having's not so fine as just being where we are

I know that timing's everything / that door will open soon
Got my number now I'm sitting in this waiting room
But I can't have you now / Gotta send you on your way
But never and forever's just too long to wait

EMBERS

© 2018 BY JENNY VAN WEST MUSIC / BMI. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

This love has a body
And that body is a song
This song has a memory
And its memory is long
So let's sing and let's remember
Let's love till love is embers
Let's sit here by that fire all night long

And the only thing I ever owned was borrowed
Let's leave our worries on the doorstep of tomorrow
Let's sing and let's remember
Let's love till love is embers
Let's sit here by that fire all night long

And the only thing I ever owned was borrowed
Let's leave our worries on the doorstep of tomorrow

Let's sing and let's remember
Let's love till love is embers
Let's sit here by that fire all night long

Let's sing and let's remember
Let's love till love is embers
Let's sit here by that fire all night long
Let's sit here by that fire all night long
